First semester the yearbook was headed by Denise Kreckler and Thea Gillies who handed responsibility to Sara Kendall and her staff for the second semester.

THE EMANCIPATOR STAFF

Faculty adviser Lynn Spellman, Patrick Rose, Kurt Peterson and Chuck Ludington worked diligently to not only redesign the school newspaper, but to also organize a staff in the absence of a first semester news writing class. The new format received accolades from students and faculty.

The Senate did what senates usually do for the benefit of fellow students and others: They planned and sponsored several dances, chief amongst them being the fall Homecoming Dance and the Spring Formal.

WE DEDICATE THIS BOOK TO REX BRANUM

As coach of the wrestling champs of the NJCAA in the 1988-89 school year, Branum has brought credit to the college and to himself.

Rex has been PE instructor and wrestling coach at Lincoln College for 12½ of the past 14 years. During that time he also taught for 1 year at Triton College in Chicago and ½ year at the University of Arizona at Yuma.

Rex is married to Becky, assistant warden at the Logan Correctional Center, with whom he shares hobbies of jogging and golf. His friends say he also likes to attend ball games and yell at umpires.

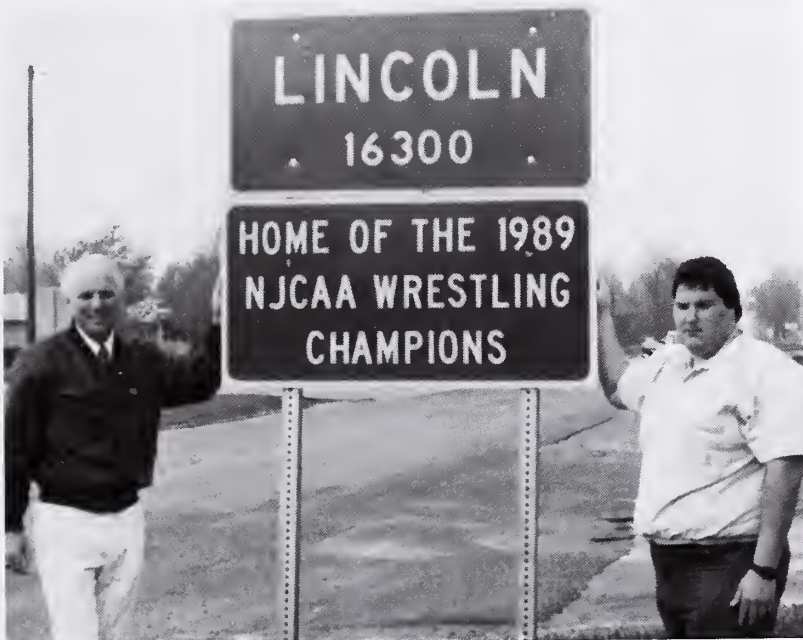

He has earned A.A., B.S., and M.S. degrees from Joliet Jr. College, Eastern Illinois University and Illinois State University, respectively.

Although he has a nice sense of humor, he is a serious, no-nonsense teacher. Congratulations to the NATIONAL JUNIOR COLLEGE WRESTLING COACH OF THE YEAR: REX BRANUM.

WRESTLERS

Al Pickering and Bob Turley proudly show off a sign of the wrestlers' success.

In November, the wrestlers began to personify their slogan, "Riding to a National Championship." By February, they had compiled a 13-0 dual meet record against top ranked junior colleges across the country. They won tournament titles at N.E. Oklahoma, Cuyahoga Community College in Ohio, and Colby College in Kansas.

They climaxed their season by winning the Regional and National Tournaments, where they won two individual titles and crowned seven All Americans. The individual winners were Curtis Crims at 118 lbs. and William Gay at 134 lbs.

Coach Rex Branum was honored by being named the Regional and National Junior College Wrestling Coach of the Year.

LADY LYNX BASKETBALL TEAM

The basketball season for the Lady Lynx was a somewhat frustrating one, with a 14-19 record. However, sophomores Desi Davis and Althea Brown had a good year and provided leadership to the team. The season brought a particularly tough schedule and a young team that gives high hopes for strength next year.

The volleyball players were full of surprises — as you can tell by the expressions on their faces. For the first time ever LINCOLN COLLEGE had an All American, Dawn Kutz.

With coach "Wrong Way" Fletcher, they traveled the countryside. "Dig or die" was their slogan. From Peoria to St. Louis, to Tusculum, Tennessee and back again, the Lady Lynx accomplished much. They won the Lady Lynx Classic, the 15 team St. Louis tourney, and the Lady Lynx Invitational to become the 15th ranked team in the nation. The sophomores will have many fond memories from 75 wins in their two years.

"I love ya' Lady Lynx" — Coach.

THE SWIM TEAM

ROW 1: Coach Jim Scott, Chris Moeller, Mike Graf, Beth Trainor, Darcy Steele, Mark Urban, Jim Turley (assistant coach) ROW 2: Andy Miller, Dave Dempsey, Bill Carmody, Bob Hutchinson, Gina DuCharme

The eleven team members, led by sophomores Mark Urban and Mike Graf, paced themselves to a 2-5 dual meet record, receiving 10th in the men's and 12th in the women's at the Illinois Intercollegiate Championships, 4th in the men's and 3rd in the women's at the Regional Championships, and 12th in men's and 14th in women's at the Junior College Nationals.

Freshmen Gina DuCharme set 6 individual and 2 relay school records. Captain Mark Urban led the team by winning almost every event he entered. Four team members, swimmer Mark Urban, divers Ellen Monroe, Mike Graf, and Chris Moeller, qualified for the National Meet and each scored points in his or her respective events. Chris Moeller was named "All American" for his 2nd place finish in 3-meter diving. With only two members graduating, next year promises to be even better.

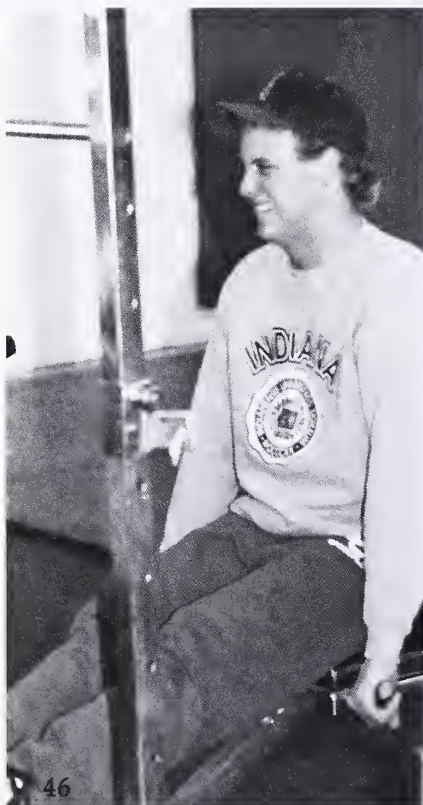

CHEERLEADERS

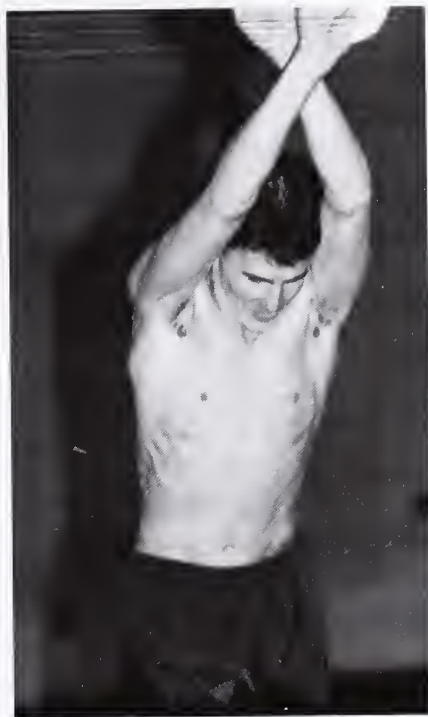

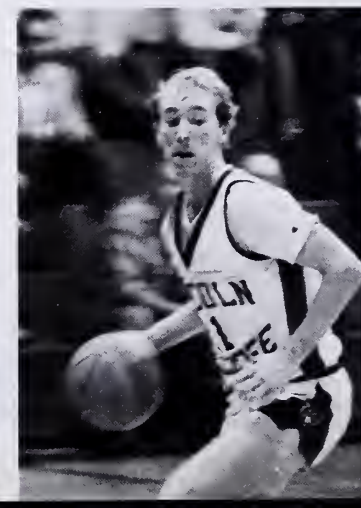

Malinda Jackson, Marisa Buscaglia, Gelinda Beasley, Inca Rodgers, Amy McGagin

The cheerleaders, who received training in poise, leadership, and social skills from sponsor Bridgett Sarnes, practiced 2-3 times a week. They spiritedly led cheers at men's basketball games at home and away.

LINCOLN COLLEGE

The '89 yearbook staff greatly appreciates the contributions from retired associate professor, Mr. Brayton Danner, whose photographs and copy compose a large portion of this book. Mr. Danner provided the following history of Lincoln College, and we hope you enjoy this record of yesteryear as much as we have.

Student life at LINCOLN COLLEGE has meant different things at different times. Founded in 1865, it remained a one-building institution until the turn of the century. Cars, movies, radios, television, and pop machines hadn't been invented. Athletics were unheard of. Male students were not allowed to fraternize with their female counterparts. Daily attendance at chapel was required — and a student using profane or indecent language was subject to dismissal. From 6-9 P.M. daily, in rooms throughout the city, students were required to be in study sessions. Classes met daily Monday through Saturday — yes, SATURDAY!

Those early years were hard for teachers, too. They were held to a strict moral code. Salaries hovered around $1000 per year, and payment was sometimes delayed or paid in I.O.U.'s.

When, in 1928, LINCOLN COLLEGE was converted to a two-year school, the campus had only three buildings; old University Hall, looking much as it does today; an administration building, destroyed by fire in January 1970; and a gymnasium which has been twice remodeled to give us the Davidson-Sheffer gym of 1989.

In the years since 1928, many changes have taken place. A dozen new buildings were constructed and major curriculum changes were made. Athletics, art, drama and communications took on the respectability of biology and history. The college turned its attention to tutorial and developmental programs and an advising system to integrate programs and students. Ball fields, tennis courts, a pool, and a student union were built.

Presently, LINCOLN COLLEGE is growing and changing, as it has done before, to meet the needs of students in a new decade — this time the 1990's. Some of these changes are pictured in this year's book. We hope you find the 1989 copy of THE LYNX informative and entertaining.

IN MEMORIAM

Bette Dirks, an associate professor of music at Lincoln College for 12 years, was responsible for developing a preparatory program and teaching music appreciation, classroom piano and musical theatre. In addition to the mark she made on the Lincoln College curriculum, Mrs. Dirks will be remembered by all who knew her as a caring and loving person. Mrs. Dirks died of cancer on May 30, 1989.
